

2023 Leadership Summit Sponsors

The 2023 Executive Women in Government Leadership Summit sponsors include a federal employee health insurer, federal employee liability insurer, federal long-term care insurance provider, federal workforce development co., federal credit union, and training and consulting co. Sending out an enormous “Thank you!” to our Executive Women in Government Leadership Summit sponsors. We couldn’t do it without you.

Diamond Sponsor

SCHOOL of
PUBLIC AFFAIRS
AMERICAN UNIVERSITY • WASHINGTON, DC

Gold Sponsors

Silver Sponsors

Media Sponsor

Ways to Support the Executive Women in Government Organization

As an Executive Women in Government (EWG) member, you have the opportunity to gather with an extraordinary group of women for both professional and social purposes. From educational leadership summits to social gatherings, EWG is a wonderful place to network, grow, and be around others who share your professional outlook and goals. If you're wondering about specific ways to lend a hand and support EWG, you can:

VOLUNTEER

Our organization hosts many events throughout the year and is always in need of volunteers to help these events run as smoothly and efficiently as possible. We're always looking for volunteers to make our events a success! Therefore, we welcome members who wish to help out and volunteer. If you see an upcoming event that you'd like to donate your time to, please send us an email at execwomeningov@gmail.com.

JOIN A COMMITTEE

In addition to volunteering, joining an EWG committee is another great way to get involved and show your support for the organization. Our committee needs change annually and there's certain to be a committee position where you would be a perfect fit! If you're interested in getting involved as a committee member, send us an email at execwomeningov@gmail.com to express your interest.

SPREAD THE WORD

Last but certainly not least, spreading the word about our extraordinary organization is an excellent way to show support for EWG. Let your coworkers and friends who are executive professional women know about EWG and what a wonderful organization it is. Tell them about the benefits of joining and why you enjoy being a member. Also, spreading the word about EWG via your social media platforms is one of the best ways to get the information out there and increase our membership and event attendance numbers, too. And, if you have yet to do so, be sure to follow EWG on the following social media platforms (and share and like our posts!) Most importantly, thank you to our members for making EWG the special organization that it is. We can't wait to see what the future holds for our organization as we continue to expand our reach and offerings!

OUR MISSION

Prepare, promote, support and mentor women for senior leadership positions in the Federal Government. Build a powerful network to share experiences, to enhance professional relationships, and to increase understanding among women executives in the Federal Government. Motivate women leaders in the federal government to contribute to effective succession planning by creating a mentoring culture within their sphere of influence.

OUR HISTORY

Executive Women in Government was founded in 1973 by the Honorable Barbara Franklin and other high-ranking government Women, to continue the work started while they were in government.